Dear sir/madam,

I'm honored to submit my application to show my interest for a position at your institution. With a B.S. in Computer Science degree and tons of skills, both technical and professional that I've gathered from pursuing this course, I'm confident that I'd be a strong addition to your team.

My interests in computer programming have led me to specialize in the field of frontend web development using modern web development tools and frameworks like React JavaScript. I've managed to develop a deep understanding on various concepts such as DOM manipulation, Routing, APIs, State Management (using Redux), JSON, RESTful APIs, version control using Git, Design just to mention few by building tons of projects.

From building these projects, I've managed to developed important skills such as error handling, critical and analytical thinking, patience, creativity, logic, project structuring and planning, attention to details, resilience, just to mention a few.

Apart from web development, I'm also very proficient in general computer operations, both hardware and software. Some of the skills that I have include networking, graphic design, software and hardware installations, operating systems, Content Management Systems (WordPress), Microsoft Office (especially Excel), Online services, software and hardware troubleshooting, etc.

Finally, I'm very good at adapting to new environments and creating healthy and useful relationships among my colleagues, have excellent communication skills, dedicated to both my own and my team's achievements and a very simple person.

I'm confident that given the chance, my skills will prove to be useful and be put to good use. Thank you for your consideration, and I look forward to hearing from you soon.

Sincerely

Davis Njoroge Meru
